The '73 Torch staff as a team has worked very hard for a quality yearbook. Still we feel more could have been done; but, even so, we think this book has many favorable assets. We hope the '73 Torch is pleasing to you.

I wish to thank all who contributed their ideas and work. In particular I am indebted to our advisors, Mr. Govoni and Mr. Bennett, who turned a crew of green recruits, like myself, into some passable yearbook personnel. We are all grateful to our photographer, Pat Connolly, who supplied his cooperation and talent to give us quality pictures.

Now that the '73 Torch is completed, I am very proud of what we have done and hope you are too.

Editor-in-chief

I want to extend my best wishes to all 1973 graduates. In our four years we have seen many changes, not merely in our school, but in our country and the world. We have seen everything from the first men on the moon, to a peace settlement in Vietnam. Let us not forget the good or the bad, so we may profit in our success and learn from our mistakes.

We've only just begun to live . . . the big school . . . LIFE'S JOURNEY

Life is like a journey
the end looks far away;
But when it's time for closing it seems, all want to stay.

This twisted road to follow
most seniors must confide
It's not so hard to swallow it's so short a ride.

Dedication

Mr. Argenziano has gone far beyond any other member of the faculty or administration. He has reached the students on a personal basis. His door is always open; he knows almost everyone by name, and understands our needs.

Being a man of outstanding personality, he has brought to this school a feeling of vitality and enthusiasm. He attends many of the school functions and makes it a point to participate actively. Some of Mr. Argenziano's favorites are football and basketball games, pep rallies, and dances. At the senior class pancake and sausage supper he helped flip pancakes, and at school dances he gladly performs his famous Indian War Dance.

Besides having plenty of school spirit, our principal involves himself in the more concrete aspects of school life. Open campus, the juke box, "The History of Rock" assembly, and the new class rank system are a few of his achievements.

Mr. Argenziano is certainly a success. He has helped the school and the students enormously. His talk is "down to earth." He doesn't "put anyone down," neither does he use excess flattery. He's honest, fair, and friendly. We admire and respect him. So, we dedicate to Mr. Argenziano the 1973 Torch of Silver Lake High.

O Yet We Trust

Oh yet we trust that somehow good;
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pangs of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood;

That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroyed,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete;

That not a worm is cloven in vain;
That not a moth with vain desire
Is shrivelled in a fruitless fire,
Or but subserves another's gain.

Behold, we know not anything;
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last-far off-at last, to all,
And every winter change to spring.

So runs my dream: but what am I?
An infant crying in the night:
An infant crying for the light:
And with no language but a cry.

Alfred Lord Tennyson

There are no hopeless situations.
There are only men and women who have grown hopeless about them.

The mind of a child is like a narrow-necked bottle. It takes plenty of learning in little drops, but any large dose will cause it to spill over and be wasted.

I have poetry to express — but for no one to appreciate.
I have love to be given — but for no one to recieve.
I have life to be shared — but for no one to be my friend.
I desire, dream, and imagine — but in vain.
I breathe — but in necessity — as I eat and drink.
There once was a time when there was peace and I was well.
at ease.
Something happened though — or someone.
They say I had changed — "but something's gained — but something's lost, in living every day."

TO a TV newscaster

Stop it!

stop showing me
those hands . . .

those impersonal disciplined precise hands . . .

folding, ever folding
in stoic order that rectangle of spangled cloth,
symbol of this,
my country . . .

folding, ever folding
above some dark and heavy box watched by dark and heavy hearts . . .

stop it, I say.
Show me the living
men . . . show them, I cry!
Halt, maimed or whole . . .
but men . . . returning . . .
men coming home.
Show me this proof
of peace.

A WORD FROM OUR PRINCIPAL

The Torch is a living monument to the stress that is placed on the individual at Silver Lake. Your yearbook staff has designed this book to help you remember the excellent opportunities afforded you, the student.

Silver Lake is your school. It was what you wanted it to be. The course offerings and the extra-curricular programs are developed and planned to meet your individual needs.

We hope that you turn the pages of The Silver Lake Torch so that you can begin to unfold the mysteries and uncertainties that beset you, the student, and perhaps more importantly, so that you can have lasting memories of your school and become involved in society with the varied and challenging opportunities presented you at Silver Lake.

I leave you the words of Samuel Johnson:

"To improve the golden moment of opportunity, and catch the good that is within our reach, is the great art of life."

The time before we grew so big before we grew so tall.
Before our eyes were wide enough to see beyond the wall.
How many years ago was that it seems so long ago
when we lived it up and watched our summers go.

There's a cold wind coming
I can tell.
Blowing back the memories of times we loved so well.

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the Pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced of cried aloud.
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find me, unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with the punishments the scroll,
I am the master of my fate:
I am the captain of my soul.

WHO IS AT MY WINDOW?

Who is at my window? Who? Who?
Go from my window! Go! Go!
Who calls there, like a stranger,
Go from my window! Go!

— Lord, I am here, a wretched mortal,
That for thy mercy doth cry and call Unto thee, my lord celestial, See who is at thy window, who? —

Remember thy sin, remember thy smart,
And also for thee what was my part,
Remember the spear that pierced my heart,
And in at my door thou shalt go.

I ask no thing of thee therefore,
But love for love, to lay in store.
Give my thy heart; I ask no more,
And in at my door thou shalt go.

Who is at my window? Who?
Go from my window! Go!
Cry no more thee, like a stranger,
But in at my door thou go!

Flying Green Papers

Flying green papers way up in the sky,
Don't be illusive; don't pass me by,
My fingers are itching with thoughts of you,
And all the fabulous things I could do.
I'm of your religion — Mathematics baptized,
You're kindly; I see it in Washington's eyes.
The wind is a-blowin'; I'm down on my knees,
Please green papers, please float down to me.
